

MISSING PAGE

ORIGINAL DOCUMENT MISSING PAGE(S):

pg ① missing

Journal - Office of Legislative Counsel
Tuesday - 19 February 1963

Page 2

could be deleted if it has not already been published. We are looking into this.

25X1 6. [redacted] Jay Sourwine, Senate Internal Security Subcommittee staff, called and referred to an UPI item which indicated that [redacted] had gotten out of Cuba. Sourwine assumed we were aiding him and wished to know if there was any chance of his being made available as a witness before the Subcommittee. I told Sourwine I would look into this and be in touch with him.

25X1A 25X1A 25X1 7. [redacted] [redacted] called to say that Robert Harwitch (State Department) had called him concerning a request to Harwitch from Senator Gale W. McGee, (D., Wyo.) for examples of "lousy Cuban Refugee Reports." [redacted] indicated that [redacted] was getting these together and was sending them to State. I indicated this was fine and that Harwitch should handle this as though it was strictly a State Department matter.

25X1 25X1A 25X1A 25X1A 8. [redacted] I dropped by to see Congressman Eugene J. Keogh (D., N.Y.) concerning a letter from a constituent which he had forwarded to State Department. The constituent, [redacted] [redacted] Mr. Keogh said he had an extremely high regard for [redacted] whose father is the [redacted] [redacted] and thinks that [redacted] might be of interest to us. I told the Congressman that we were always interested in knowing about these things, although we could not guarantee that we would have a definite interest. Keogh said he understood.

25X1A Mr. Keogh, who was most cordial although quite busy, said he had an extremely high regard for the Agency, for the work that it was doing and for the people in it, and he wanted to let us know this. He said he never wanted to meddle in our business and worked on the assumption that if he could help us, we would call upon him. I thanked Mr. Keogh for these expressions and told him that we would have someone in [redacted]

25X1 9. [redacted] I talked with Senator Jack Miller (R., Iowa) regarding his letter expressing concern regarding an Iowa newspaper